RE: Italy ATC Strike

Dear All,

You may be aware that Italian ATC Unions have called yet another strike Fri 15th December between 13:00 - 17:00 local at most Italian airports. We have not yet decided what flights, if any, will be affected.

You may also be aware that the Alitalia Pilot Union ANPAC is trying to encourage Ryanair Pilots not to work during this time. We expect all our pilots to work normally, and to work with us to minimise any disruption to our customers.

All Ryanair Pilots and Cabin Crew who are rostered must report for duty as normal on Friday Dec 15 at your crew room for your rostered duty. Any industrial action taken by any Cabin Crew will result in the immediate loss of the 5/3 roster for all Cabin Crew at that base in line with Section 11 of your base agreement. It may also result in the loss of the future pay increases remaining under your base agreement and no transfers or promotions within the base.

Please continue to work your rostered duties as normal.

Yours sincerely,

Eddie Wilson
Chief People Officer
